

Nursing Graduation Service Immersion

Graduation marks what you completed. This immersion helps shape and open doors for the nurse you will become.

Move from nursing graduate toward professional nurse through meaningful service, deeper learning, cultural immersion and purposeful career preparation.

One immersion. Two pathways forward. Prepare with Purpose — Track One before the NCLEX-RN, or Step Into What’s Next — Track Two after it.

One immersion. Two pathways forward

PATHWAY	LEARNING FOCUS
Prepare with Purpose — Track One Before the NCLEX-RN	For participants completing NCLEX preparation during the immersion and testing afterward.
Step Into What’s Next — Track Two After the NCLEX-RN	For participants joining after their planned NCLEX test date, with a focus on transition to practice.

Note: Participants may change tracks at any time before departure.

Build more than your résumé. Build your direction.

Throughout the immersion, guided transition-to-practice discussions help you turn your experience into a stronger professional story.

Your résumé	Document international service, leadership, cultural learning and professional development.
Your first nursing position	Prepare to discuss your experience in interviews and pursue positions aligned with your goals.
Nurse residency programs	Strengthen how you present your readiness, reflection, adaptability and commitment to service.
Graduate education	Explore future pathways and articulate how the experience supports your long-term professional direction.

Participation may strengthen professional preparation and candidacy but does not guarantee admission to a graduate or residency program, employment, licensure or any specific career outcome.

From Graduation to Professional Practice

The immersion provides structured opportunities to examine professional communication, person-centered care, safety, evidence, improvement, professional identity, career planning, well-being, resilience, and leadership. These areas are also relevant to entry-to-practice nurse residency education and the transition of newly licensed nurses into professional practice.

Help2Serve.Care does not operate an accredited nurse residency program. The immersion is a separate service-learning and professional-development experience that may help participants prepare for future residency applications and transition-to-practice expectations.

Service with a purpose you can explain

Join community-based service and health education shaped by local priorities. Observe care within defined roles, learn how local teams address health needs, and reflect on what that means for the nurse you want to become. Clinical participation remains observational.

Experienced guidance and a record of your work

Jason T. Speaks, PhD, FNP-C, RN brings nearly two decades in nursing education, academic leadership and mentoring; 15+ years teaching and supporting NCLEX-RN preparation as a nursing professor and Kaplan NCLEX-RN educator; 12+ years and 12,000+ patients as a practicing Family Nurse Practitioner; and 20+ years leading students and programs in global health and international service-learning. The program pairs nursing education with local leadership, guided reflection and documented service-learning. Bringing nursing education, clinical practice, NCLEX preparation, and global health together to help graduates move confidently from student to professional nurse.

Accompanied by a U.S.-licensed Nurse Practitioner

Participants in the Nursing Graduation Service Immersion are accompanied by a U.S.-licensed Nurse Practitioner who is embedded throughout the experience to guide discussion, reflection, and experiential learning in real-world health settings alongside local health professionals—helping participants develop a 360° perspective on global health, professional practice, and culturally responsive care.

Health-Focused Immersion Standard: All Help2Serve.Care health-focused immersions are accompanied by a U.S.-licensed physician (MD/DO), Physician Assistant (PA), or Nurse Practitioner (NP).

A degree confirms what you completed. The immersion adds documented recognition, broader perspective and experience beyond the classroom through international service. Carry that professional story into your first years as a nurse and throughout your career.

Build Evidence for What Comes Next

Participants do more than describe the experience. They develop concrete evidence of learning that may strengthen a professional portfolio.

- Official Help2Serve.Care acceptance letter
- Program syllabus or educational framework
- Competency and Professional Preparation Map
- Community-health or service-learning project
- Clinical judgment case analyses
- Ethical-service reflection
- Partner or mentor feedback
- Leadership documentation

- Verified service-learning hours
- Certificate of Completion
- Participant Learning and Professional Development Record
- Updated résumé language
- Interview preparation narrative
- 90-day transition-to-practice plan

Faculty, employers, residency programs, and graduate programs independently determine how they evaluate or recognize this evidence.

Turn the Immersion into Accurate Résumé and Interview Language

A guided workshop helps participants convert the immersion into accurate résumé and interview language. Suggested résumé entry:

International Service-Learning and Transition-to-Practice Immersion — Help2Serve.Care, [Country], [Dates]

- Completed [verified number] hours of structured, community-based service-learning and global-health education.
- Collaborated with local professionals, community partners, and an interdisciplinary participant team within defined observational and service roles.
- Completed guided learning in cultural humility, population health, ethical practice, clinical judgment, professional communication, and transition-to-practice planning.
- Developed [name of project or portfolio artifact] in response to a partner-identified community priority.

Suggested interview preparation question: “Tell us about an experience that changed how you understand nursing, teamwork, cultural humility, or community health.” Participants prepare a structured response describing:

- The context
- Their defined role
- What they observed or contributed
- How they responded to feedback
- What they learned
- How the learning will influence their nursing practice

Résumé statements do not claim direct patient care unless the participant was legally authorized, properly supervised, and Help2Serve.Care verified the specific activity. Communities are never described as helpless, and participants are never presented as rescuers.

Fourteen days or the full twenty one

Explore the Dominican Republic, Costa Rica or Belize, subject to cohort availability. Add seven optional days of guided cultural exploration after the service immersion. Join individually, with classmates, or with a group. Documented student leaders may qualify for program-cost support.

Apply Early. Plan Your Next Step with Clarity.

Qualified applicants who receive official acceptance can begin planning their immersion with documented dates, objectives, anticipated service-learning activities, and expected learning outcomes. Participants who receive official program acceptance receive:

- Official Help2Serve.Care program acceptance letter
- Confirmed pathway: Prepare with Purpose — Track One or Step Into What's Next — Track Two
- Confirmed cohort, destination, and program dates
- Transition-to-Practice Syllabus or NCLEX-RN Preparation Map, as applicable
- Participant learning outcomes and immersion objectives
- Competency and Professional Preparation Map
- Planned service-learning activities
- Anticipated range of service-learning hours
- Participant scope and role boundaries
- Predeparture requirements and timeline
- Insurance and safety requirements
- Portfolio and documentation overview
- Certificate-completion requirements

Planned hours remain subject to community priorities, local-partner needs, safety considerations, attendance, and program adjustments. Completion documentation reflects hours actually completed and verified.

Official acceptance refers to acceptance into the designated Help2Serve.Care immersion. It does not constitute academic admission, institutional sponsorship, academic credit, clinical-placement approval, employment, licensure, or acceptance into a nurse residency or graduate program.
